Christmas Door Decorating

WINNERS ANNOUNCED

The Mattapoisett Lions' Club would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the winners of this year's door decorating contest and thank everyone who participated in this annual event. It was particularly difficult to judge this year's contest in that it was very obvious that all participants spent quite a bit of time both in the design and construction of their entries.

The grand prize winner in the natural category is Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lajeunesse at 6 LeBaron Way. The Lajeunesses literally spent weeks in the process of putting their nativity scene together and their efforts were rewarded by dinner for two at the Mattapoisett Inn.

Second and third place was a dead heat with Jane Chase of 36 Fairhaven Road awarded second with a gift certificate from the Mattapoisett Chowder House, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perkins of 21 North Street awarded third with a gift certificate from Cerulli's. Both of these arrangements involved a tremendous amount of time with the Chases' use of "toenail" shells in the star shape with the natural colors of the First place in the artificial category was brunch for two at Joseph's Olde Tavern Inn and was awarded to Mrs. John Kurgan, 24 Main Street, while second place prize of breakfast for two at Branigan's was awarded to Sandra Travers of 69 Fairhaven Road. These displays both involved quite a lot of cutting and pasting. The Kurgans' partridge and pear tree theme was done mostly in fabric in intricate detail. Sandy Galligan, 6 Hitching Post Road, took third place and a gift certificate from the Heritage Flower Shop with her entire entry decorated; she even went to the extent of Christmas carols played by the door chimes.

Honorable Mention went to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fleming, 3 Briar Patch Lane and Carol Lareau, 22 Prospect Road.

The Flemings won a gift certificate from The Pen and The Pendulum, and a gift certificate was awarded to the Lareaus from Rogers Gallery and Framery.

The Mattapoisett Lions' Club and particularly the Door Decorating Committee, comprised of Mike Wood, Steve Flaherty and John DeRugeris, would like to thank everyone who participated in this year's contest and made our town "extra special" this holiday season. Special thanks goes out to our area merchants and restaurants who generously provided contest prizes. Also our gratitude to Donald Jason and his staff at the Presto Press for their continued support of the door decorating contest. To all of Mattapoisett.....Your Lions' Club would like to wish you and your families a Happy and a Healthy New Year!

Planning Proposal Supported

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING DECEMBER 20, 1988- by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Overwhelming support was given at the December 20th Selectmen's meeting by members of the Planning Board, Peter Kortright, Chairman of the Growth Management Committee, and the Selectmen for a Land Use and Growth Management Plan proposed by Burk Ketcham and Associates of Cohasset.

It was voted the proposed scope of work follow a format similar to the one being used in the Town of Marion. All the planning work would be coordinated by the Mattapoisett Planning Board, wrote Mr. Ketcham, and he would meet with and solicit the input and recommendations of all boards and committees interested in Mattapoisett's future.

The proposed fee for the extensive work involved will be in the range of $32,000 to $35,000, depending on whether the services of a Land Use Attorney were employed by the town.

The gift of the Keller Company of Hingham, proposed developers of the Nunes' property on Brandt Island Road, made at the Special Town Meeting in the amount of $100,000 is "to pay the salary and expenses of a Town Planner for as long as the money lasts".

At the suggestion of Planning Board member Richard E. Chase, Selectmen will check with Town Counsel the legality of using the gift money for planning services. Both boards felt the expenditure would be within the framework of the Keller Company's offer.

Selectmen Chairman William F. Hubbard said there are several things happening dealing with Planning: in an aquifer area, and in the Historic District proposal and the waterfront issue. Chairman Hubbard said hopefully the proposed work can be initiated by the first part of 1989 and finish by the fall of 1989.

Planning Board Chairman William H. Matthews said the issue was discussed at the last Planning Board meeting. "I agree that this is the best way to go and it sure makes sense to me. A lot of the information will come from SRPEDD and the Growth Management Committee. We will update the 1968 Master Plan. Personally, I'm all for it." Mr. Matthews added a Town Planner coming in and not having a working organization would take much longer to get results; whereas with Ketcham's proposal, it is coming from a structured organization presently working on similar plans.

Chairman Hubbard explained that Mr. Ketcham has had considerable experience in this type of planning. Also, he lives in a coastal town and has done work for many coastal towns similar to Mattapoisett, commented Selectman Bernard F. Talty. "I am very impressed with his work. He is interested in what the people of this town want and not what other towns in the state want," said Selectman Talty.

Chairman of the Growth Committee Peter Kortright said he feels this is a positive step and a good idea to put direction in things. "I've known Bert Ketcham for 10 years. He has done a lot of work in the state's cities and towns. Even if we did go to bids if it is required, I feel confident we would feel comfortable with Mr. Ketcham's qualifications."

Mr. Kortright added that this proposal is a planned document - "We should keep it up to date and then later bring in a town planner".

In Mr. Ketcham's proposal he would have a person to do research and editorial assistance and a graphic specialist skilled in the preparation of report and presentation graphics for planning projects. The proposal is an evolutionary process which will place emphasis on an Action Program to carry out community development and preservation goals and provide zoning and other regulatory measures the Town Meeting and town boards and agencies can adopt and implement.

ANNOUNCED the Special Town Meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, January 10th, at Old Rochester Regional High School.

RECEIVED WORD from the State Department of Public Works that the department has approved the use of the new reduced road salt policy in Mattapoisett.

In the Fairhaven-Mattapoisett-Marion-Wareham area: Route I-195 from the junction of Route 240 in Fairhaven, excluding ramps, to the junction of Routes I-495 and 25 in Wareham, including the long ramps at this junction of these routes but excluding the ramps at the following interchanges: Route 240, Route 105 and Route 28.

Chairman Hubbard commented, after noting an aggressive state public information campaign will be forthcoming, that cars will last longer with this change. "People will just have to slow down when driving on icy roads."

AGREED TO CHECK with Dennis Mahoney & Sons, Inc. to see if there is any space available in its garage on Baptist Street to house the town Seniors' Van.

A letter from Council on Aging Chairman Eleanor Lynch noted the Highway Surveyor had advised her that the Senior Van space at the Town Barn on Mendell Road is needed for highway trucks.

Mrs. Lynch requested the Board look into the matter and come up with a favorable solution for garage space for the senior van.

Selectman John DeCosta said the original agreement with the state regarding housing

It was noted Costa's is closed permanently at this time. Inspector Bobola requested Selectmen not grant any licenses to new owners until verification from his department that the building has current safety inspections from the Electrical Inspector, Board of Health, Plumbing and Gas Inspectors, and the Building Department.

Chairman Hubbard noted that back taxes are owed by the owners of Costa's. Anyone asking to review the licenses will be informed that there are liens on the premises. Selectman Talty said "we should not 'rubber stamp' any licenses unless all inspections are completed".

Chairman Hubbard felt a police check should be made on all new managers. Executive Secretary Carol Adams noted the Police Chief does do these checks.

by VIRGINIA MORGAN

The second session in the Board of Health's Show Cause Hearing on the Stratton Finishing Corp of 22 Harbor Road, held in the Town Hall Conference Room Tuesday, December 27, was continued for a third night at 7:30 p.m. January 17 for a final decision.

The Board heard the closing remarks of neighbors of Stratton Corp., Eli M. Nefussy, representing Bruce Mathieson, owner and operator of the Stratton Company, and Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming. About 25 persons attended.

At the recommendation of Town Counsel. Health Board Chairman Daniel C. Lee announced, "We do admit there are odors. Therefore, a site assignment will be necessary according to state statute. The odors were determined to be offensive to normal sensibilities."

Town Counsel said a state statute calls for this action if the Board determines that indeed: the hours of business are a nuisance or harmful to neighbors; the trade or employment is a nuisance or injurious to the estate of the inhabitants of the town and/or dangers to public health; that the trade or employment is a nuisance or attended by noisome and/or injurious odors. Counsel recommended that following the Zoning Board of Appeals continuation of its hearing on whether property owner Peter P. Briggs can have multi-businesses at 22 Harbor Road, scheduled for January 5, the Health Board will meet on Tuesday, January 17, at 7:30 p.m. to determine what action it should take to operate on the property.

(The Phoenix Boat Works also operates at 22 Harbor Road.)

At the first session of the Show Cause Hearing on December 20th, testimony was heard from six neighbors and the Build-

Chairman Lee said board members personally checked the site on September 10th and did smell paint odors. At three other visits no odor was detected, the Chairman said.

A last-minute report was filed by Inspector Bobola, who was absent from the hearing because of illness but who made a telephone report: Today (December 27) after receiving a telephone call from Mrs. Elen and Mrs. Verdi at 12:45 p.m., he inspected the site and determined there were some fumes but could not determine just where they were coming from. The Inspector then made a report to the Police Department.

Mr. Mathieson admitted to have been spraying with Awlgrip in the morning and again in the afternoon, but said he heard no complaints from men who were working on boats in the yard.

Chairman Lee said the decision is difficult. He said he would like to see the neighbors and Stratton get along. we put stipulations and do continuous air testing and monitoring, perhaps that would work out." If there are odors, there are technological ways to control them, Chairman Lee added.

The neighbors' attorney, Daniel Perry, claimed 90 percent of what was heard December 20th was irrelevant and "red herrings". He explained that "yes" the very offensive odors are negative on the neighborhood and there is overwhelming evidence the site assignment should prohibit its (Stratton) continuance.

Attorney Nefussy, speaking for Mr. Mathieson, said there could be a fair, just solution for all. He claimed the neighbors didn't smell any odors from Phoenix who operates a similar operation at the same address and uses the same product, Awlgrip. He argued that Stratton should be allowed to continue with the new filtering system and to have the operation monitored to protect the neighbors.

TO THE VOTERS AND RESIDENTS OF MARION, MATTAPOISETT & ROCHESTER

A comprehensive study assessing the needs of a plant long neglected at the Old Rochester Regional Senior High School was the outgrowth of the 1987 town meeting votes in Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester.

The members of the Old Rochester Regional Advisory Committee have been working with the school committee, the architect, and the administration to develop long-range plans which address these concerns. The reno-

In the twenty years since the school first opened its doors to the children of the three towns, very few renovations have taken place. The newly formulated renovation/repair plans incorporate advanced technologies which will be used throughout the building to make the senior high school a more efficient plant to operate. Included in the plans are replacement of windows, floors and ceilings, and the removal of asbestos as mandated by law.

In order to provide for future educational needs, the core facilities of the school were looked at with great care. The renovation/repair plan provides for expansion and updating of the Library/Computer Resource area, complete renovation of the auditorium, and expansion of the gymnasium facility. An additional classroom and the relocation of the Superintendent's Office within the building will also be included in the design. The proposed changes and updating of the ORR facility will provide the appropriate setting for the education of our children now and for many years to come.

A presentation for the general public has been scheduled for Wednesday, February 1st, at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Rochester Regional High School Cafeteria. We urge you to attend.

1989 and Counting

EDITORIAL, DCJ

At the turning of the first page of a new year, everyone is aware of a milestone. We are more conscious of past and future. The Chinese consider the new year of great significance as a time to pay all debts so as to lift the burdens of the mind and start afresh.

In Mattapoisett, we have much to count when we count blessings. To live along this coast in these surroundings is to drink a full cup of New England. No town is more beautiful or more inviting for recreation. Even simple joys such as a walk can renew body and spirit along the harbor. Our summer wharf draws people like a magnet draws iron. If you enjoy friends that's the place to make and meet them all. We have much to count when we number our pleasures and these are the best of all.

Add to these the feeling of security. Life offers a series of hazards to overcome. Where would you find more willing help? Our volunteer fire department is first rate. Anytime, day or night, our credibly short span of time. Swift response is on the way anytime it's needed.

Equally at the top of the list of security is assistance when someone in the family is ill or injured. Each week in our pages is a list and beside the caption "Ambulance Runs" is a number. Each number represents a drama in our everyday life. Our police officers have a primary responsibility in the protection of life and property and life has top priority. Should you ever need help, you will not believe how quickly such help appears at your door. Equally important, the help is considerate, caring, expert assistance. Nothing our Emergency Medical Technicians and our Police Officers do is of more value and nothing more appreciated by the people who call for aid. There is no peace of mind like knowing that a phone call and a minute or two will bring response.

We can go on counting, but such primary basic things as "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness", together with the health to enjoy these in a close-knit community, top all the lists. Count us among the most fortunate people along the coast of New England as we enter 1989.

Patience Wales is Editor of SAIL magazine, a world circumnavigator, and has just returned from 13 months cruising from the eastern Pacific to the Indian Ocean aboard her 51-foot cutter, Boston Light. With her four boat partners, Ms. Wales sailed in the wake of World War II from the Solomon Islands to Indonesia. Her slide show covers this period and focuses on the War in the jungle. She found downed airplanes, wrecked ships, and bits and pieces of crockery lying as it was left in the waste of war. The show also introduced the viewer to islanders, to life on a voyaging sailboat, and to primitive peoples on the Sepik Rover in New Guinea.

Letter to the Editor

As grandparents of one of the participants, my wife and I were fortunate to be invited to the Christmas week production of "The Nutcracker" at Center School. The musical itself was superbly performed with youngsters playing impressive leading roles. More impressive to me was the "order", or to use the more maligned word "discipline", exhibited throughout. Over 200 children were involved and all responded on cue to the gentle gestures of the directors. eager and excited expressions were mute testimony to how we all feel when firm and reasonable limits are set for us. It is especially gratifying to see evidence that willingness to be part of a well ordered group and the joy of accomplishment can be blended to produce such a fine result. We owe Jean West, DeeDee Smith, Diane Perry, Meg Roberts and Mrs. Kozicki more than a "thanks for a good show". It is their type of leadership which helps all of us be proud we live in Mattapoisett where our elementary school provides tion of their choice. Direct Deposit has several advantages, including:

1. No need to worry about a check being lost.

2. No need to worry about a check lying in a mailbox when away from home.

3. Savings in time and transportation and no standing in line to cash or deposit the checks.

4. Money in an account is safer than carrying cash.

A person can deal with any financial institution he or she chooses, including a commercial bank, savings bank, savings and loan association, federal or state credit union, or similar institution.

To arrange direct deposit, a person should complete a form SF-1199, available at the financial institution. A monthly benefit check shows all the information needed to complete the form. More information about direct deposit can be obtained at any Social Security Office or at any financial institution.

Mattapoisett Board of Appeals

by Virginia Morgan

DECISIONS ANNOUNCED

Four Special Permits were granted by the Mattapoisett Board of Appeals and were announced on December 19th.

The petition of John E. and Patricia A. Conway, 32 Washington Street, Norwell, relating to property located at 6-8 County Road was granted as an amendment to a prior decision made on April 22, 1986 for alterations to an existing non-conforming structure, a commercial building, for a change of use from 8 business units to 12 business units of the structure. Also, for erection of a new sign of property at 6-8 County in the General Business District.

The two-lot property is considered one lot for zoning purposes. The commercial building consists of the Conway building (two stories) and the Pandolfi building (one story), connected by an open trellis way. Alterations are proposed for the Pandolfi building only. The present configuration will be preserved and there will be no change in height or footprint by refurbishing the exterior shingles, windows and doors.

The applicants proposed a change of use from the maximum of eight business units allowed to a maximum of 12 business units in the combined buildings. Cardoza; and the second floor to be an extension of the second floor dwelling unit of the main house to be occupied by the applicants.

At the public hearing, a number of neighboring landowners appeared in support of the application. They all commented on the good work done on the property by the Cardozas and the substantial beneficial change to the neighborhood with the acquisition of the property by the Cardozas.

The board's decision was based on the shape of the lot and the structure on it and especially affecting the lot and structure but not affecting generally the residential district in which the property is situated, a literal enforcement of the onefamily dwelling unit permitted would involve substantial hardship, financial or otherwise to the applicant, and that the desirable relief may be granted without substantial detriment to the public good.

Christmas Bird Count Results

Greater New Bedford observers recorded 86 different species wintering locally on December 18th when the Paskamansett Bird Club sponsored its 21st annual Christmas Bird Count, the official designation of the nationwide activity of which this is a part.

The total for the variety of birds seen proved to be a low average for this time of year, but the aggregate number of all birds counted was disturbingly low; only 12,629 were recorded within the 30 mile circle centered in New Bedford harbor. This figure is approximately two-thirds of the number documented on last year's survey which, at nearly 19,000, was considered but a poor average total.

Conjectured reasons for the drop generally impute the vagaries of the weather during the week previous, theories which can neither be disallowed nor proven. Most of the species with abnormally low numbers on the 18th, however, were of those hardy breeds whose presence is not usually affected greatly by the changes in weather, such species as Canada geese, scaup, starlings, and the ring-billed gulls, for example.

Concern for numbers, however, was mitigated by the excitement generated by the sightings of four exotic or at least very unusual kinds. Topping the list of rarities was a single barnacle goose, a species which nests in Greenland and normally winters in Europe; three greater white-fronted geese, birds from the extreme northwest regions of the North-American Continent that fly the Mississippi migration route to winter in southern Texas; a single red-bellied woodpecker, common in the south but seldom seen north of Long Island in winter; and 21 turkey vultures, a warm weather bird known to nest as far north as Ohio but mostly found south of the Mason-Dixon line in winter.

The barnacle goose, thought to have arrived hereabouts in November, was observed feeding with a small flock of Canadas, as were the white fronts, in a meadow on a farm near the Fairhaven/Acushnet line. The woodpecker has been seen in South Dartmouth for several weeks now, while the vultures have been roosting at night for the past two months in trees beside the Dartmouth landfill, as reported by Paul Faria, a D.P.W. employee.

These four new species for the Christmas Count might have brought the species total up to last year's tally of 90 but for the fact that four other kinds, annually sighted, were not in evidence this year; pintail and ruddy ducks, killdeer, and Cooper's hawk. Birders were disappointed too in not being able to find a single quail, pheasant or grouse - birds which in the past 10 years have virtually disappeared from the survey area. Several other species are showing a declining trend on the population charts to an extent that may indicate a serious environmental problem. Some of these are common land birds, such as the nuthatches, goldfinches, kestrels, mourning doves, bluejays, Carolina wrens, purple finches, and mockingbirds.

Two very prolific species, however, continue to show population gains; they are the house finches (a transplant from the southwest) and the rock dove, or common pigeon.

Two waterfowl which exhibit erratic population trends and so bear careful watching are the goldeneyes and the scoters. Birders are speculating as to whether pollution in coastal waters is responsible for this year's dramatic drop.

As in previous counts, the most numerous birds this time were the landfillloving herring gulls and the tough, resourceful starlings, a thriving import from Africa.

Besides Paskamansett Club members, numbering 22, to carry out the survey there were 11 area citizens who assisted by watching and reporting on backyard appearances of birds. The field birders traveled 200 miles by car within the survey circle, as well as on foot, starting in the early morning hours. They ended the day with a gathering for potluck supper at the old Town Hall in South Dartmouth.

Results of the survey, compiled by Hope Atkinson, will be submitted to the National Audubon Society, instigators of the nationwide count program now in its 89th year.

Activities of the local bird club will continue during the winter and spring. Persons interested and wishing for more information may telephone 636-2215.

The exhibition of large format, black and white photographs, will run through Friday, January 20th, at the non-profit Fairhaven gallery. Peggi Medeiros, Gallery Director, notes, "This exhibition has been in the planning stages for well over two years. When in 1986 I first saw some of Mr. Burzynski's photographs from his thesis exhibition, I knew that they had to be seen and enjoyed by a far wider audience. Last year working under horrendously tight deadlines he came through for the Gallery taking the majority of photographs for our first catalog, Off Shoots Art in Textile Media. Thanks in large part to his photographs, the catalog has been a great success. I am delighted that we are beginning a new year with his work."

Philip A. Burzynski is a partner in Roberts & Burzynski, New Bedford, a graphic design/photography studio producing product photography and corporate portraiture. His partner in the firm, Eva Roberts, is a Professor of Graphic Design at Southeastern Massachusetts University and was formerly Chairman of the Graphic Design Department at the Swain School of Design.

But picture this. You are leisurely canoeing past palm trees and yucca plants while a sub-tropical sun beats warmly upon your face. You are in the naturalist's heaven that is the Florida Everglades, an untouched million acres of land and water and home to many rare and endangered species of wildlife. On a six-day canoe trip guided by veteran tour guides, you are privy to sights unbeknownst to your less adventurous friends and family.

As you explore this area you'll find that it is a place with habitats found nowhere else in North America such as the Outer Capes, Cypress Domes, Sawgrass Prairies, Mangrove Forests, Feshwater Sloughs, Tropical Hardwoods and Hummocks.

You'll find that it is, in fact, a beautiful change of scene. Watching the animal life alone in this green lushness of a place is a fascinating adventure. Anhingas, incredible diving birds with long, deadly-sharp bills with which they spear prey are abundant. Alligators silently appear on the sides of banks and watch the foreign group of people in boats float by. Herons, egrets, pelicans and purple gallinules and other exotic birds are near at hand. Pilot whales, dolphins, and an occasional shark swim in the coastal areas and can be spotted from your safe position in the boat.

There is never a dull moment because of the diversity of habitat that the Everglades is so famous for. For instance, one manmade passage that blocks the freshwater Homestead Canal waters from saltwater intrusion, is a narrow passage of water that offers a unique vantage point of shallow lakes and mangroves and truly sub-tropical species of birds such as roseate spoonbills, white ibis and woodstocks.

After a full day of canoeing and viewing sights like these, your group will pull over and park for the night on a sandbar. Under an immense Florida sky, you get to watch yet another spectacular show of nature, this time a star show. And it's free.

Before you know it, though, the guided tour through the beautiful Everglades is ending. The canoes are docked; civilization beckons you to rejoin it. And it's O.K. Because you've just had an experience you'll never forget. You've just had a fantastic, incredible glimpse of nature in its true colors.

The "Everglades Adventure" is scheduled for February 19-25 and is offered for the third consecutive year by the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, located in South Dartmouth. Members as well as non-members are invited to participate in this yearly venture. If you are interested in finding out more about the trip, please call Mary Beth Bishop at the Lloyd Center at 990-0505. The fee for the six-day trip is $700. for non-members and $650. for members. This fee includes transportation

SHARE - PILOT PROGRAM

A new pilot program at Bristol Community College lets children come to school with their parents and SHARE in many special evenings of fun and education. Parents will no longer have to worry about what their children are up to. They'll know. The children will take part in activities especially designed for them in the College's new SHARE program, according to Janice Motta, dean of continuing education and community services. The program, offered through the division of continuing education, will be held on Monday evenings this semester.

"Students who attend school at night or on the weekend have different responsibilities than those who take day classes. At 5 p.m. they're not only concerned with succeeding in their course work, they're concerned about the dinner meal, cleanup and, of course, who will watch the children while they're at school," said Ms. Motta. "We wanted to find a way to take away some of the stresses experienced by our students who wear the many hats of worker, parent and student. So we designed SHARE pilot program. Although the program will only be offered on Mondays at first, we hope to expand it to other evenings if there is enough interest." For more information call 678-2811, ext. 155.

La Leche League

MEETING SCHEDULED

What group of infants has fewer ear infections, fewer respiratory illnesses (even fewer colds), fewer gastro-intestinal upsets, and fewer allergies? Which babies are less susceptible to tooth decay and have softer skin? Breastfed babies, that's who.

What mothers can give their babies a superb, nutritious diet and still save hundreds of dollars on baby food in the first six months? Nursing mothers, that's who.

Come to the next meeting of La Leche League of Wareham to find out more about the many "Advantages of Breastfeeding". We will be meeting on Wednesday, January 11th, at 7:30 p.m. (arrival time is 7:15) at the home of Linda Marcoux, 14 Register Road, Marion. All pregnant women and nursing mothers are warmly invited; babies and toddlers are always welcome. We have a lending library of books on breastfeeding, parenting, childbirth, and nutrition, and many information sheets and reprints. We also offer for sale an excellent manual called The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding. Please come and join this group of warm and supportive mothers. For directions Clouds Away", "How Long Has This Been Going On", and "Nice Work If you Can Get It".

"My One and Only" tells the tale of Captain Billy Buck Chandler, a barnstorming Texas pilot who wants to be the first American to fly nonstop to Paris. Enroute he falls in love with the beautiful Edith Herbert, world-famous English Channel swimmer and current water ballet star. Edith, however, is under the jealous and watchful eye of her manager, a mad Russian prince. Add a bootlegging bishop, a love-struck female mechanic, a "fairy godmother", a bevy of aqua-maids and a tap dancing chorus and you have a bewitching show filled with romance and enchantment.

Directing "My and One Only" is William Wesbrooks, whose credits include national tours of "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" and "Brigadoon". Choreography is by Daniel Pelzig, who teamed up with Mr. Wesbrooks on last season's acclaimed national touring production of "The King and I". The original Broadway production of "My One and Only" won three Tony Awards, including Best Choreography.
